MUSIC FOR WEDDINGS

Wedding music is a staple in nearly every tradition, and of course each couple wants their wedding to be absolutely perfect.

From the prelude music until the traditional wedding march is played, through whatever type of service is being performed, and until the final recessional from the church or venue, you want everything to be first class.

Are you having vocalists during the actual ceremony? Will there be instrumentalists or groups performing as well?

Viki has played many types of organs and can create special stop settings to give your wedding a unique sound. She also knows how to accompany vocalists and groups who may need varying levels of support for pitch and balance with the instrument.

Perhaps you're having the rehearsal dinner catered privately and would like special music for this particular part of your life.

If you're having a band at the reception, consider having them play exclusively for dancing. Viki's custom sets of traditional and classic songs from various decades create a comfortable and familiar setting while people arrive, get drinks, and mingle before the meal. The relaxing sound of the piano provides a lovely background during dinner, creating a harmonious atmosphere.

Whatever your situation and budget, there is an arrangement possible to give you not only an outstanding and memorable event, but also a headache- and hassle-free one!

Give Viki a call today at 971-300-6071 to schedule a free private consultation.

MUSIC FOR FUNERALS

Music touches the heart in its own special way, so having custom music at a funeral is a lovely means to communicate feelings that cannot otherwise be shared.

One way to celebrate the lives of loved ones is to remember them through music. There may have been a favorite hymn that comforted them in troubled times. Maybe a Sousa march had them tapping their feet during rousing July 4th celebrations. Perhaps an anniversary felt incomplete unless they danced their special waltz.

Viki has experience with different faiths and customs, and she can help you select music that will create a lovely atmosphere to both honor the deceased and provide comfort to those at a service, wake, or other public or private memorial. Call her at 971-300-6071 for gentle service and compassionate help.
